"Knowledge comes, but wisdom

Knowledge and Faith . . . part of our school motto . . . are exemplified in these two buildings. Lecture classes and labs are held in "Science Hall"; weekly services are conducted in the Chapel. Both Annie Merner and the small meditation chapel, which is open to students at all times, provide the spiritual enrichment which we feel is a natural accompaniment to the intellectual development for which we strive.

Creativity is important in all of the arts, but too often it is overlooked in the art of everyday living. The courses in practical arts give preparation for many aspects of life. Teachers, homemakers, scientists, and scholars all gain excellent backgrounds in labs, seminars, and student teaching . . . backgrounds which will form firm foundations for future years, whether they be spent in professional careers or in establishing homes.

The students' choice

The Honor Code forms the backbone of our student government. It is dedicated to the development of self-discipline and high ideals. The Students Association presents us with experience in dealing with the technicalities of government, and more important, in dealing with people. By constantly striving to improve our student government and honor code, we attempt to mold women of leadership and integrity.

"We found the Gluh!"

Soon after the freshmen arrive on campus, they receive their green ribbons signifying the beginning of initiation, which is conducted by the sophomores. The freshmen feel somewhat awed by the upperclassmen, but soon, through activities like "Hubing," the Junior Coffees, and serenades, they become acquainted not only with the other students, but also with MacMurray itself and all that it stands for. Finally when the Gluh is found and the green ribbons are burned in a traditional ceremony, the freshmen find themselves with a wealth of happy memories and firm friendships which will last for many years to come.

Along with the unexpected and stimulating events which occur on a campus, go the usual occurrences which are such an integral part of college life. At MacMurray it's singing in the dining hall, rushing to the post office between classes, studying in the library, seeing the stacks of luggage in Main Hall at vacation time, talking with friends in the Hub. All these and many more are the primary colors which give foundation and depth to our lives.

From a firm foundation of knowledge concerning the arts, thoughts and ideas take wing to build new pathways of perception and interpretation.

Along with the team sports goes a long list of individual and group activities, ranging from tennis to bridge, all of which emphasize not only the acquisition of skills, but also participation just for fun and relaxation.

Class of 1957

Senior year brings about a schedule which leaves little time for academic studies. Such events as Senior Tea, Thanksgiving Serenade, Senior-Sophomore Ball, and a trip to St. Louis on Cut Day are tightly fitted in between thesis writing, comprehensive tests, and job interviews, to say nothing of classes and bluebooks. Finally, however, Graduation appears and erases all thoughts of the hardships endured throughout the year.

This was a full eventful year for the Class of '58. In November it sponsored a "pop" concert given by Roger Williams. The publication of the Student Directories, the presentation of the class dance, "Tangents," the organization of Lantern Drill, and the other May Day events completed the activities for the Junior Class.

Class of 1959

The Class of '59 was responsible for initiating the freshmen, a task they accomplished with gusto. During December they collaborated with the Senior Class to present the Senior-Sophomore Ball, "Reflexions Royale." The highlight of the second semester was the class project, "Why in the World?," which was followed by the traditional party given for the seniors in the late Spring.

"Home to Rome" with the Freshmen

*F*reshmen

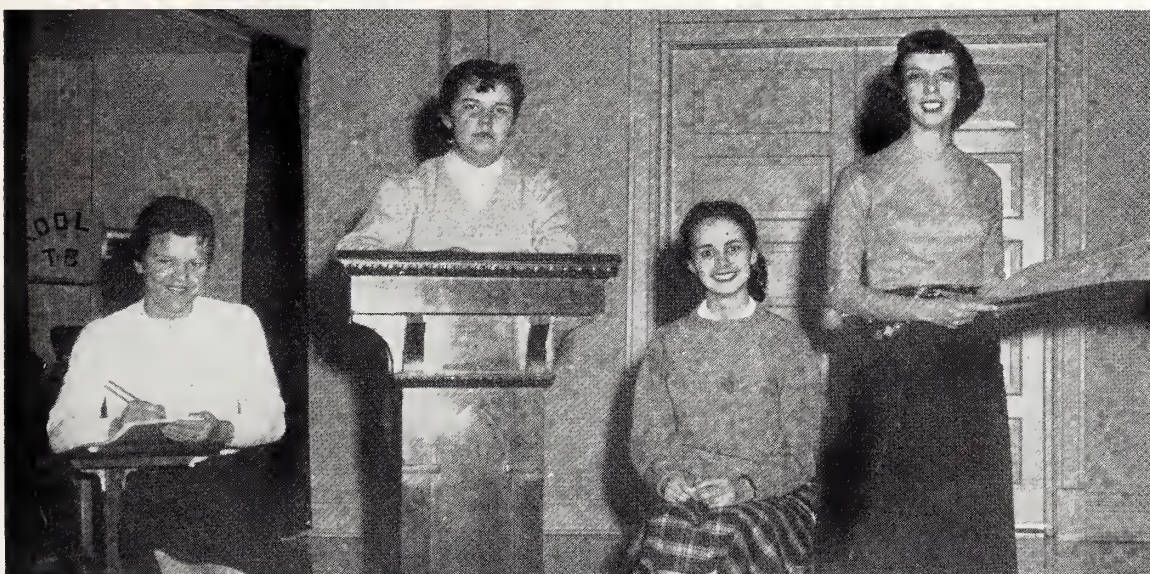

Following the rigors of Initiation, the freshmen plunged into their year-long schedule of activities. The Pumpkin Party and the Candle Notching Party were two of the first semester events. During second semester came the presentation of the class project, "Home to Rome," followed by the Freshman dance, and the annual faculty tea.

Students Association

Our campus government, embodied in the Students Association, executes all student affairs which come under its jurisdiction. Through the Executive, Judicial and Legislative Boards, as well as through its standing committees, S.A. seeks to stimulate individual growth and group co-operation. This year the organization worked specifically on the campus housing problem, strengthening the Honor Code, and writing a new constitution.

One of the most important activities of the S.A. is the Students Orientation Service. Each year counselors help transfer students and freshmen become acquainted with and orientated into college life. The counselors not only provide these students with warm friendships, but also are always present to answer questions, help solve problems, and brush away those first-week homesick-blues.

Every student is a member of our MacMurray chapter of the Y.W.C.A. This organization, directed by an eleven-member board, sponsors many worthwhile activities, the effects of which are not limited to this campus alone. The Kampus Karnival, Christmas Caroling, and the faculty auction for the Community Chest represent only a part of their activities. They also conduct magazine drives for the patients of the local hospitals, and this year co-operated with the World University Service by collecting clothes for Hungarian students.

Nancy Bridge plans another Y project.

The Recreation Association organizes all the campus athletic activities. This year they sponsored the "Learn-a-Sport" program which featured special instructions in tennis, archery, golf, and hockey. The ever-popular Army-Navy hockey and basketball games, both won by Army for the third consecutive year, were another feature of the R.A. program. In addition to these activities, each spring the R.A. presents the Elizabeth Rearick Trophy for outstanding sportsmanship to the girl who they feel is the most deserving of this honor.

Pictures, drawings, copy, engravings, lay-outs, deadlines! These words composed the biggest part of the vocabulary of the Illiwoco staff. This year, for the first time, the staff included members from all four classes. The co-operation of campus organizations, the valuable advice of our sponsors, Mr. Foersterling, Mr. Lane and Mr. Skiles, and the hours of work, laughs and groans were all important factors in the publication of this, our 1957 Illiwoco.

Phi Nu

Phi Nu, one of the four upperclass societies, started its activities this year with rush parties based on the theme, "My Fair Lady." The members participated in the seminars held during Religious Emphasis Week and undertook the sponsorship of a Girl Scout Troop. Second semester rush parties, centered around a "Monte Carlo" theme, and the Senior Banquet in April completed Phi Nu's activities for the year.

Theta Sigma went "arty" with first semester rush parties which followed the theme of "Abstractions." The second semester parties were an adaptation of the Lewis Carroll classic, entitled "Alice in Thetaland." Activities included a "hard times" Christmas party, aid for the campus Heart Fund drive, and participation in the Religious Emphasis Week programs.

Intersociety Council

Intersociety council, composed of representatives from the four upperclass societies, was organized for the purpose of co-ordinating the rules and dates for society rushing. This year the council adopted a constitution and became a recognized campus club.

Belles Lettres

Belles Lettres is the oldest literary society in the United States. The members held several open meetings this year, one of which featured a political debate between Dean Dy-singer and Dr. Sheppard. Besides the many rush activities for both semesters, the members of Belles Lettres also visited the patients at the State Hospital and helped produce a play at the School for the Blind.

Knowledge, Faith and Service . . . the motto by which we live. Faith is embodied in the Campus Christian Council which is composed of representatives from each class and campus representatives of the local churches. This group sponsors the vesper services which are held in each dorm twice weekly. The biggest single responsibility of C.C.C. is the organization and sponsorship of Religious Emphasis Week. This event has brought many fine speakers to our campus, who have given us both spiritual and intellectual inspiration.

Madrigal

Our freshman singers find an outlet for their musical talents in the Madrigal Club. This group has initiated many fine voices into choral work here at MacMurray. Besides participating in chapel services, the Madrigal presented a special program as part of the Dads' Day activities, and performed with the choir at the Christmas and Easter Vesper services.

MADRIGAL OFFICERS

Joyce Ravizza, Jeanne Walker, Carol Goodall, Macia Tanner, Carrie Smith, Penny Bergstrom.

The brass quartet warms up.

Band

The high point of the band's activities this year was sponsorship of a concert appearance by Raphael Mendez, world-famous trumpet virtuoso. The band, made up of musicians from both MacMurray and Illinois Colleges, gave several concerts with bands from nearby schools, as well as making its traditional campus appearances during Dads' Day and during the May Day activities.

Alpha Lambda Delta

Alpha Lambda Delta is an honorary society for freshman women who have attained at least 2.5 scholastic average. This group participated in many campus activities, including the Y.W.C.A.'s Kampus Karnival.

Orchesis

For girls interested in modern dance, organized activities may be found in the Orchesis Club. In the past this organization has presented an outstanding concert, all of which was choreographed by the members themselves.

Orchesis Members: Carol Ann Davies, Mary Don Smith, Ruth Miller, Connie Hills, and Annette Pinney point toward their annual Spring concert.

 Second row: June Barrett, Pat Drake, Margaret Stokes, Joyce Hibbs, Lois Cohenour, Mary Danielson.

The MacMurray radio station, WMMC, is one of the most useful groups on campus. All its programs are under the direction of students who are interested in radio work. This year WMMC gave full election coverage of the presidential race, broadcast a special Christmas program and sponsored a ministers' workshop, as well as presenting a Dads' Day quiz show.

Station Manager Ruth Cohenour and Advisor Dr. Holcombe look over the daily program schedule.

National Collegiate Players

Continuing a tradition of excellent stage productions, Mac Players sponsored "Antigone," "The Torchbearers," "Alice in Wonderland," and "Candida." In addition, these thespians held "Fortnightly" meetings at which members read plays and participated in various workshop activities at the Little Theater.

One of the most outstanding contributions of the National Collegiate Players was the sponsorship of the Producer-Director's Showcase. The showcase consisted of six one-act plays, directed by sophomores interested in drama. The members of N.C.P. also participated in several area conferences on acting, playwriting and other phases of the theater.

Macquatics officers, Miss Royal and Miss Spencer plot '57 watershow.

MacQuatics

"Moments to Remember" . . . this was the theme, as well as a good description of the MacQuatic Club watershow, presented during Dads' Day. The show depicted the outstanding events of a school year . . . the moments to remember. Members of this organization, chosen by try-outs, develop the skills and techniques of synchronized swimming, and strive to improve not only through rigorous practice, but also by participation in aquatic meets and seminars held throughout this area.

Front row: Joan Shaw, June Barrett, Marsha Ringle, Alice Ann Hoff, Sally Kern, Nancy Zook, Chris Schultz, Joan Downing, Barbara Lohman, Judy Martin.

 Third row: Julie Smith on Grace.

Mac Mounties

Members of MacMounties do most of their work during the spring when they present several horse shows. The most popular of these is the show which is presented as part of the Commencement Week activities in June. Special instruction classes are given to refresh the members in various equestrian skills, as well as in the care and grooming of the horses and equipment.

President Sandy Harvey and Miss Harder, Advisor to the group, compare mounts.

Physical Education Club

Club 13, under the sponsorship of the Physical Education Club, is always one of the highlights of the school year at MacMurray. This year the eagerly awaited event arrived in the cloak of an Oriental night club. A Chinese river scene, Ming trees and soft lights formed the backdrop for the parade of campus talent which was presented.

Social Committee

Many of the social functions of the campus are under the direction of the Social Committee. The Harvest Holiday Dance and the monthly Combos are sponsored by this organization, and the job of co-ordinating the calendar for lectures, concerts, class projects, and dances is also their responsibility. This year the committee contributed a greatly-appreciated juke box to the Hub.

Transforming the Hub into "Combo Country"

Front row: Peggy Morrison, Jane Stroud, Miss Mary Frances Wheeler, Pat Lewis, Barbara Conway.
Second row: Carolyn Watts, Mary Jo Stewart, Judy Bosserman, Lorrie Pontius, Sue Frank, Nancy Storm.

Town Girls

The Town Girls Club was organized especially for MacMurray students who are residents of Jacksonville. Meetings are held in the Town House which serves as a daytime dorm for these girls. In addition to monthly meetings, this group included pot luck suppers, bake sales and a Christmas party in its activities.

We knew you were coming, so we baked a cake . . .

Prexy Judy Tucker and Hostess Club officers confer on perspective weekend

One of the most active organizations on campus is the Hostess Club, composed of freshman girls. This group helps entertain all the prospective students who come to visit MacMurray. These guests are cordially welcomed by their hostesses who try to give them a glimpse into college life as it is lived here at MacMurray. The Hostess Club also arranges trips to other nearby schools for its members.

Hostess Club

Young Democrats

Political interests run along strict party lines whenever the Young Democrats and Young Republicans hold their meetings. Both of these clubs, though recently formed, have proved to be of invaluable service to the campus and to the town, by arousing interest in politics among the students, encouraging a careful survey of present political developments, and aiding local election officials at the polls.

Young Republicans

Second row: Sandra Scheid, Nancy Miller, Betty Moehlig.

Third row: Diane Duesenberg, Pat Cartwright.

Fourth row: Peggy Lieberman, Judy Tucker, Jeanne Bergsten, Gretchen Ulrich, Marina Chiamas, Carole Doeland, Beccy Brown, Dot Bunke, Judy Monz.

Home Economics Club

The Home Economics Club included bake sales, food demonstrations, and a baked bean supper in its varied activities this year, thus making it one of the campus' more well-fed groups. Seminars conducted by experts in this field supplemented campus workshops and gave the members an insight into the professional fields which emphasize special training in home economics.

Seated: Shirley Link, Nancy Grant, Miss France, Louise Graves, Norma Longlett, Miss Giddings, Penny Bergstrom.

"Let knowledge grow from more to more and thus be human life enriched"

To the class of 1957 we dedicate this book. Throughout your four years at MacMurray you have endeavored to gain wisdom in addition to knowledge. Through participation in campus activities, you have laid the foundations of a well-rounded personality. What the final structure will be depends on the way in which you apply the knowledge gained here. May you graduate from the university of life with honors.

Faculty Show

On the evening of January 19, 1957, a fantastic spectacle greeted the eyes of MacMurray students. There on the stage of the Ann Marshall Orr Auditorium were members of the administration and faculty, throwing caution to the winds and entertainment to the crowd in their biennial presentation of the Faculty Show. Seldom do our revered professors create such pandemonium and hilarity as was seen in this show . . . a production which left all of us weak and gasping.
